FEEDBACK

Firstly I would thank the students and their teachers who have given me the chance to visit the KONGU Arts and Science College. They have given me a very good experience. It helps me as a student to many things.

In the morning they have taught me about the students definitely, this would be a new experience to our students. The students are dedicated and sincere. They have shown some passion in the teaching process. They have enjoyed the short film played by the trainers.

After lunch they have conducted a few games and a few exercises which help to motivate the students. The trainers are most courteous and friendly. I am very grateful to them.

Outcome of the Activity	Students from III B.Com (CA) shared the knowledge about laptop and its usages. Later we trained the school children to operate the laptop. School children eagerly showed their involvement to learn by doing. Around 18 primary school children were the beneficiaries of the programme. To freeze that happy moment, we took several photographs which will be our proud knowledge sharing experience forever. It was an insightful and touching memory for all of us.
Feedback of the Activity	The children felt so happy and expressed their gratitude for conducting such an activity and thanked the department.

Outcome of the Activity	Environmental deterioration and health risk due to improper e-waste management. Electronic-Waste is exposed to the heat, then the toxic chemicals are released into the air, damages the atmosphere and also contribute to air pollution. Those toxic materials can then seep into the groundwater, affecting both land and sea animals. This is one of the biggest environmental impacts of e-waste. The objective of this programme is to keep our city and our College Campus free from Electronic Waste Pollution.
Feedback of the Activity	This programme creates awareness of E-Waste to College Students and Public. It also gives awareness in recycling E-waste Materials. E-waste Materials recycling saves energy, reduces pollution, reduces greenhouse gas emissions, conserves natural resources, saves landfills and it protects environment.
